The dark Weisse beer is produced with 60% dark and light-colored malted wheat and 40% dark and light-colored malted barley which provides the beer with a deeper amber color than regular Weisse beers and a more robust and fuller flavor. Weiss Dark has a clean, robust, malty nose with hints of hops and a smoky, malt flavor. A cross between the traditional Weisse and Märzen styles, this beer can tame the spiciest items on the menu while it maintains the characteristic refreshment of wheat beer.
